

A photograph of three men posing on large, dark, jagged rocks. The man in the background is standing and shouting with his mouth wide open. The man in the foreground is crouching and pointing towards the camera. The man on the right is standing and making a peace sign. All three are wearing light-colored t-shirts featuring a large, detailed graphic of a pug's face. The background shows a clear blue sky, some evergreen trees on the left, and a body of water with distant mountains on the right.
